Vocal Hygiene

tips

1. If you smoke - quit.
2. Include plenty of whole grains, fruits and vegetables in your diet. These foods are rich in vitamins A, E, and C, which help to keep the throat mucus membranes healthy.
3. Avoid spicy foods, as they may cause stomach acid to move into the throat and oesophagus causing heartburn or GERD.
4. Limit excessive use of mouthwash that contains irritating chemicals.
5. Wash your hands often to prevent upper respiratory infections.
6. Get enough rest. Physical fatigue will negatively affect your voice.
7. Exercise regularly. This will help to increase stamina and muscle tone, which helps to promote good posture and breathing.
8. Avoid using the extremes of your vocal range.
9. Stay hydrated.
10. Control allergen exposure. Allergies can irritate the mucous membranes of the airway and lead to infections of the sinus cavities, swelling, and excess mucus production, which in turn may result in irritating and stiffening the vocal folds.
