Choosing the Right Accommodations

When choosing a hotel for your Disney World vacation, there are a few things you'll want to keep in mind:

- Accessibility features: Make sure the hotel offers the accessibility features you need, such as accessible rooms, roll-in showers, and wheelchair ramps.

- Location: Choose a hotel that's located near the parks you plan to visit. This will make it easier to get around and avoid long walks.
- Price: Disney World hotels can be expensive, so it's important to set a budget before you start looking.

Here are a few of the most accessible hotels at Disney World:

- Disney's All-Star Resorts: These value resorts offer accessible rooms with roll-in showers and wheelchair ramps. They're also located near the parks, making them a great option for families on a budget.
- Disney's Pop Century Resort: This moderate resort offers accessible rooms with roll-in showers and wheelchair ramps. It's also located near the parks and offers a variety of amenities, such as a pool and a food court.
- Disney's Caribbean Beach Resort: This deluxe resort offers accessible rooms with roll-in showers and wheelchair ramps. It's located on the monorail line, making it easy to get to the parks.

Planning Your Itinerary

Once you've chosen a hotel, it's time to start planning your itinerary. Here are a few things to keep in mind:

- Choose the right parks: Not all Disney World parks are created equal when it comes to accessibility. Some parks, such as Magic Kingdom and Epcot, are more accessible than others, such as Hollywood Studios and Animal Kingdom.

- Plan your days: Make sure to plan your days so that you have time to see all the attractions you want to see. It's also important to take breaks throughout the day to rest and recharge.
- Make use of the Disability Access Service (DAS): The DAS allows guests with disabilities to pre-register for attractions and avoid long lines. To use the DAS, you'll need to visit Guest Relations at the park you're visiting.

Here are a few of the most accessible attractions at Disney World:

- Magic Kingdom: It's A Small World, Peter Pan's Flight, Space Mountain, Pirates of the Caribbean
- Epcot: Soarin' Around the World, Test Track, Mission: SPACE, The Seas with Nemo & Friends
- Hollywood Studios: Toy Story Mania!, Star Tours - The Adventures Continue, Rock 'n' Roller Coaster Starring Aerosmith
- Animal Kingdom: Kilimanjaro Safaris, Na'vi River Journey, Expedition Everest

Getting Around Disney World

Disney World is a large resort, so it's important to plan how you're going to get around. Here are a few options:

- Wheelchairs and scooters: You can rent wheelchairs and scooters at all Disney World parks. They're a great option for guests who have difficulty walking long distances.

- Strollers: Strollers are a great option for families with young children. They're also a good option for guests who have difficulty walking long distances.
- Disney transportation: Disney offers a variety of transportation options, such as buses, monorails, and boats. They're a great option for guests who don't want to walk or rent a wheelchair or scooter.

Dining at Disney World

There are a variety of dining options available at Disney World, from quick-service restaurants to fine-dining restaurants. Here are a few tips for dining with disabilities:

- Make reservations in advance: If you have any special dietary needs, it's important to make reservations in advance. This will ensure that the restaurant can accommodate your needs.
- Ask about accessible seating: When you make your reservations, be sure to ask about accessible seating. This will ensure that you have a table that's easy to get to and navigate.
- Use the My Disney Experience app: The My Disney Experience app can help you find accessible restaurants and make reservations.

Shopping at Disney World

There are a variety of shopping options available at Disney World, from small gift shops to large department stores. Here are a few tips for shopping with disabilities:

- Use a wheelchair or scooter: If you have difficulty walking long distances, use a wheelchair or scooter to get around the stores.

- Ask for assistance: If you need help finding something, don't hesitate to ask a cast member for assistance.
- Take breaks: Shopping can be tiring, so be sure to take breaks throughout the day.

Tips for Guests with Autism

Disney World is a great place for guests with autism. Here are a few tips for planning a trip with autism:

- Plan ahead: It's important to plan your trip ahead of time so that you can avoid any surprises. Be sure to research the parks and attractions and make a list of the ones you want to see.
- Use the My Disney Experience app: The My Disney Experience app can help you find accessible attractions and make reservations.
- Bring a support person: If possible, bring a support person with you to help you navigate the parks and attractions.
- Take breaks: It's important to take breaks throughout the day to rest and recharge.

Tips for Guests with Other Disabilities

Disney World is a great place for guests with all types of disabilities. Here are a few tips for planning a trip with other disabilities:

- Plan ahead: It's important to plan your trip ahead of time so that you can avoid any surprises. Be sure to research the parks and attractions and make a list of the ones you want to see.

- Use the My Disney Experience app: The My Disney Experience app can help you find accessible attractions and make reservations.
- Bring a support person: If possible, bring a support person with you to help you navigate the parks and attractions.
- Take breaks: It's important to take breaks throughout the day to rest and recharge.

Planning an accessible Disney World vacation can be a daunting task, but it's definitely possible with the right planning. By following these tips, you can ensure that you have a magical vacation that everyone can enjoy.
